Hey John,

I have added API access to your account, fitzpatrick@chef.io, at app.trueability.com.

You can find your access token / user credentials on the settings page, https://app.trueability.com/settings
(It's directly across from your email address)

The documentation for the API is attached. You will be most interested in the /results api. With it you can download the results for assessments graded after a certain date, this would allow you to run this same job every day and only get newly graded results. I've provided a simple curl example.

Example showing all results graded after the first of December, piped through python to make the output pretty.

curl 'https://app.trueability.com/api/v1/results?user_credentials=<API_TOKEN>&graded_after=2017-12-01' | python -m json.tool

I hope you find this useful.

Thanks

d.
